

South Lombok; Sekotong and Gili Nanggu

A special trip to a part of Lombok that is still rarely visited: the most western "tail" of the island.

In this area you find bays around a deep blue sea and really white beaches that are almost empty. The road leads along the coast through a rugged and arid landscape. With clear weather there are views of the mountainous inlands and the summit of Gunung Agung on Bali.

A boat trip from Senggigi brings you to the almost uninhabited island of Gili Nanggu where there are great snorkel opportunities. At the end of the day you return to Senggigi.

Source: Sunda Trails.

